ANGELS WINGS FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES 2nd YEAR OF THAI SCHOLARSHIPS

LOS ANGELES, February 3, 2018 –The Angels Wings Foundation, International (AWF) today announced that it is accepting applications for its Angels Wings Thai Scholarship Program. Building on the success of the program's inaugural year, which saw over 24 students of Thai ancestry, receive educational support, the AWF Thai Scholarship program has expanded beyond Los Angeles and will now be offered throughout the state of California. Students selected as AWF Scholars will receive financial support for their continuing education. Recipients attending city/community colleges will receive $5,000 and those attending 4-year colleges or universities will receive a $10,000 scholarship.*

The AWF Scholarships are available to high-achieving seniors with financial need who seek to attend four-year colleges, universities, or city/community colleges and who meet certain requirements needed for application. The foundation will select 24 recipients based on a combination of their academic promise, financial need, service to others, leadership and essay response.

"I am thrilled to be able to expand our scholarship program and meet a new group of accomplished students. I am incredibly proud of our last year's recipients. May their impressive sense of responsibility, and courageous commitment to furthering their educational and personal journeys, be an inspiration to others," Angels Wings Foundation founder, Porntip Bui Simon

The AWF Thai Scholarship program is dedicated to advancing the education of exceptionally promising Thai-American students who have demonstrated academic excellence, concern for and involvement in their Thai community, and the desire to continue their education.
